The Seven Ponds.

These ponds are situated twenty seven miles from Rangeley and are reached by buckboard to Kennebec Lake, thence by steamer across the lake and again by buckboard to our camps at Beaver Pond the centre of the Seven Ponds region.

The new buckboard road is not now enough to be dangerous, and constant work upon it is rapidly reducing the number of deaths reported to us daily. From our Camps upon Beaver Pond excellent trails afford easy access to a number of ponds where splendid trout fishing is an unfailing certainty and the capture of an occasional fish quite a common occurrence. No expense has been spared in securing the grandest mountain and lake scenery for the exclusive use of our guests for which no charge is made. Trout rise freely to the fly during the entire season and "fles" of 10-pounders are constantly being flapping in the guides' quarters. Game of all kinds is so abundant as to be a positive nuisance and the following may be hunted in the open season: Minkes, Moose, Caribou, Chamois, Bears, Deer, "Draw" Poles, Hedgehogs, "Hearts," House Flies, Partridges, Ducks, Drakes, "Seven up," Weasles, Wards and other small game.

White Black flies and Mosquitoes are very rare, tar ointment is served at every meal and is deservedly popular. An excellent table is kept, upon which more or less food is served, most of which is consumed by our guests without abusive language. Good beds are not unknown; while every luxury to be found in any modern hotel, may be called for. Anything that a third-class camp trying to pass itself off as a comfortable well kept one, finds it necessary to promise, we do, to any extent. We seek patronage from anyone who desires to visit the real backwoods and who is not afraid to take desperate chances. Board and boats furnished at reasonable rates. Guides furnished on application. Parties wishing to visit this place will please write in advance so that we can have camps in readiness. The railroads will sell excursion tickets at reduced rates from Boston to Rangeley.

Ask anyone about Beaver Pond Camps and they don't speak well of us, then address us direct for any desired information.

Just the Place for Fishermen.

Where shall I go to get the best Spring Fishing? Will be asked by hundreds of sportsmen the coming season, and to those we would say, go to Angler's Retreat. Situated at the outlet of Wolkennebec Lake, here one always finds the best of fishing and it also holds the record of the largest trout taken in the Rangeleys. Sportsmen who visit this place are always sure of their share of trout. Any who do not care for Spring Trouting can always find the best of Fly Fishing at B Pond soon as the ice goes out; here Fly Fishing only is indulged in with great success. This place is unsurpassed for those wishing to spend the summer with their families as they can be accommodated with Log Cottages where they can be by themselves, or they can have rooms in the house. Here Hay Fever is never known. Pure spring water first-class table and the best of beds. The dining room has been made twice its former size and has a capacity to seat 75 people. ## FLY ROD'S NOTE BOOK.

"I should like to see the country and the improvements there will be in the Rangeley region in twenty-five years from now," remarked an old gentleman coming down in the steamer across Rangeley lake last Saturday. Then we talked of the wonderful improvements during the past ten years. Others who listened said to them it seemed almost impossible that during those few years so much had been done. The Rangeley Lake House has been moved onto the Point and enlarged and improved until there is no better hotel in this part of Maine, and now over two hundred guests are being entertained there.

Ten years ago! When in those days fifty was a big crowd for Marble to entertain. The Mountain View House and Mooselookmeaguntic have doubled their capacity. Bald Mountain camps have been built. Billy Soule has kept adding camps until the island is crowded and he is now building on the mainland. The same can be said of Upper and Middle Dam, while in speaking of Bemis a gentleman less than ten years ago remarked, "Why, Bemis is so far away in the wilderness the echo of a steam engine will never be heard there."

"Can it be possible," remarked a Philadelphia gentleman to the old comer. "Yes, it is all true and why don't you say something about it in your note book, Fly Rod."

Dressing up in camp is not expected. It is then the freedom of the short skirt and sweater is enjoyed by the ladies and the short pants and woolen shirts are dress suits for the gentlemen. One night when a young lady who was with a jolly party came into the office "all dressed up," as the boys said, in a dainty white dress and pretty ribbons, it gave her quite a surprise when the jolly man of the party declared "that would never do" and going to the big woodbox in the corner replenished the open fire by adding the few sticks of wood there were in the box, and quicker than a flash took Miss in his arms and put her in the woodbox, and while all joined in the laugh came the young lady promising to wear only her everyday fixings in the future. She was allowed to go free that time and later joined her friends dressed in the same old sweater she had been wearing ever since she came to camp and enjoyed the joke as much as her friends.

At Four ponds one of the guests, Fred Abbott, has two good camps located at Round pond, and Camp Glady at Long pond.

This past week there has been a happy crowd there, Mr. R. B. Stratton, civil engineer of the Portland & Rumford Falls R. R. and wife, Miss Florence Houghton and Miss Anna Farnham, teachers from Massachusetts, and Miss Abbott from Houghton, Will Abbott, one of the guides, was with them. The party had a grand time camping, and found the fly fishing fine, and caught all they wanted to eat. Mrs. Stratton caught the largest trout, a 1 1/2 pound one. The fun of camping, doing their own cooking and living "far beyond the haunts of man" for a week was greatly enjoyed by the party.

Mrs. P. C. Gallatti of New York, an accomplished Greek lady of royal blood, is, with her two sons, spending the summer at the Rangeley Lake House her husband having been here part of the time. Mrs. Gallatti is entertaining as her guest a distinguished young Greek, Constantine Deligeorge, son of the former Prince of Greece, and a member of the Royal Greek Navy.

It will be remembered that the Greek government gained permission from the United States to allow two members of her Royal Navy to enter the United States Navy and serve a term of years that they might have a better knowledge of the ways of our navy and Mr. Deligeorge was one of the two men to receive that honor and is now on the U. S. Cruiser "New York" with the White Squadron in Portland. He received permit to be absent for three days to visit his old friend Mrs. Gallatti. The Rangeley lakes are new to him and he is delighted with this part of the world. He is a most agreeable and interesting young gentleman and we are glad Rangeley is favored by a visit from him.

KINEO HOUSE CROWDED.

Good Strings of Trout Secured by Guests Here.

$250 Raised by Guests For a Hotel Library.

(Special Correspondence to the PHONOGRAPH.)
KINEO, ME., August 21, 1900.

"Standing room only," was a placard that might have properly been hung on the desk of the Mt. Kineo hotel during the week, and the capacity of the hotel will be taxed to its utmost for the next two weeks. More guests have been entertained this season than ever before and a record breaking season is assured. The addition of 100 rooms next spring now seems assured.

Golf is occupying the attention of all, young and old, and the interest in the game is not in the least abated. The first of the series of tournaments will begin Wednesday and a number of others will follow.

August fishing is better than it has been known for years. During the week past some fine strings of trout have been secured by guests in close proximity to the hotel, and the fishermen in the woods at the many rapids easily reached through here report phenomenal catches.

The guests of the hotel have started a fund for the establishment of a hotel library and already $250 have been subscribed. Mr. H. Lord of New York started the paper with $50 and a large number of the guests have contributed $5 and $10. The happy thought had its origin among a few of the older guests and through their efforts a most successful start has been made. A few books will be purchased at once and once established the library will be a handsome memorial to the loyalty and love of Kineo's admirers. The association has organized by the choice of Mrs. C. A. Hull as chairman and Mrs. James A. Brodie as vice chairman. A committee has been chosen.

Deer are more than plentiful in the immediate vicinity this season and rare sport awaits the early September hunters. Special licenses have already been placed on sale here.

Every boat during the past week has brought many guests. Some have spent a few days here, others are in the woods and many are guests here for the remainder of the season.

Among the late arrivals here are the following:

E. C. Dale, Philadelphia; D. B. Chappie, New York; L. B. Hall, Lowell; H. B. Wilson, C. S. Hall, New York; E. G. Wyckoff, C. F. Wyckoff, Ithaca, N. Y.; T. Warren Hopper, Hartford; John Langer, New York; Miss L. H. Pirsson, New York; H. N. Lang, H. R. Bailey and wife, Boston; N. H. Stewart, Stewart, Pa.; Henry Beniers, Philadelphia; E. M. Felt, Dr. J. R. Morrow and family, New York; Dr. R. W. Less and wife, Miss M. H. Musser, Alfred Marshall and wife, F. A. Marsuall, Martin Marshall, Philadelphia; Dr. G. C. Bailey, Hartford; W. E. Miller, New Haven; Dr. E. J. Marsh, Paterson, N. J.; Wm. B. Randall and wife, Pellam Manor, New York; Mrs. S. D. Kingsland, Miss M. R. Sherman, E. P. Tyson and wife, Miss Iowley, C. F. Street and wife, W. H. Wolverson and wife, New York; J. H. Dwight and family, Chicago, and many others.

Bears and Deer Numerous.

(Special Correspondence to the PHONOGRAPH.)
MADRID, ME., Aug. 20, 1900.

Never before have so many bears been seen about Madrid as this year. One day recently Mrs. Weymouth saw a large one cross the bridge over Sandy river just above Madrid village while several have been seen and heard near the village. Several deer have decided to make friends with the people of this town. Two were so bold as to enter Mr. Walker's field just back of his house. We might add that the cartridges have been removed from the rifles lest the temptation be too great.

Mr. F. L. Smith of Brookline, Mass., with Sid Harden as guide, who has been making a canoe trip from Moosehead to the Allequash, reports having a most excellent time on the Maine waters. In the two weeks they have been gone Mr. Smith reports having seen 54 moose and 351 deer.

Famous Places in a Famous Region.

Lofty peaks, invigorating air, beautiful scenery, delightful society, cascades, rushing streams, enchanting surroundings, magnificent hotels—such is the make-up of the White Mountains region of New Hampshire.

This vast region, covering many, many square miles of territory, is one great summer pleasure resort. Every necessity for enjoyment is at hand and nothing will be found lacking that the tourist might suggest or expect.

Golf of course stands paramount as the leading recreative amusement and mountain climbing is a chief feature in White Mountain life, nearly every mountain having its paths, but to Mount Washington the climbers look for the greatest sport, for there is a variety of ways of ascending the great mountain and the number of incidents which the trip affords are often of a most exciting and thrilling nature.

To get to the mountains there are several routes either of which lies through interesting country, and the scenes one finds at every turn are wondrous and magnificent workings of nature.

The White Mountain villages are every one of them pleasant places and each has innumerable attractions which are important, attractive and are oftentimes picturesque, and have made their locations famed.

In North Conway there are many places of interest, White Horse Lodge being one of the first to attract one's attention. Thompson's Falls, hidden away in the great forests, is a most beautiful waterfall and like Artist's Brook and Artist's Falls is delightfully picturesque.

Echo Lake is included in North Conway's environs, likewise The Cathedral, also Diana's Baths, either of which is well worth visiting.

Conway's sunsets are as famed as the Mount Washington sunrise, and the charming effects which they bring are a charm and delight to all who view them.

Intervals have many noted attractions and perhaps the most notable of them is The Great Cathedral Woods.

Glen Ellis Falls up in the Glen Region is by no means a rushing torrent, but instead is a crystal like stream pouring in a solid column over a series of steep rocks, the sides of which cliffs are rough and jagged, and the mountain stream as it hurries downward is deflected from side to side, and the mist rising therefrom are of most delicate and finely hued colors.

Silver Cascade, in the Crawford Notch, is one of the sights of the mountains. This waterfall is seen from the train in passing through the Notch.

The water descends almost perpendicularly for a distance of nearly four hundred feet and glides over the face of the ledge, a clear, silver like unbroken sheet.

Jefferson lies on the slope of Starr King, and the broad expanse of the mountain scene which unfolds itself to the vision of the tourist is one of magnificent splendor.

The Presidential Range from Jefferson is a delightful vista, and the drives and walks which may be taken from here are among the best and most widely known in the mountains.

Perhaps the one object above all others which impresses the White Mountain tourist is "The Old Man of the Mountain."

Twelve hundred feet above Profile Lake, in Franconia Notch, is this "Great Stone Face." It does everything but speak, and the great solemn features are so exceedingly fascinating that one never tires of gazing in awe and wonderment at this gigantic superhuman face.

Franconia Notch has an Echo Lake over which a sound reflects several times with ever increasing clearness.

Canon Mountain, Eagle Cliff, and the Flume and the Pool and Basin are other natural curiosities which have made not only their own but the whole mountain region famous.

Of Mount Washington much might be said, 6,293 feet above the sea level, the view from its summit extends over a radius of more than a hundred miles, including lake, mountain, shore and river scenery. The ride up the mountain side on the cog railway is no only delightful but thrilling.

There are many objects of interest to be seen on Mount Washington, chief among them being Tuckerman's Ravine, Great Gulf and Lake of the Clouds. The geologist and botanist are in clover when on Mt. Washington, for many rare and choice specimens in their lines are found there.

Bethlehem, Littleton, Fabyan, Colebrook, Lancaster, Sugar Hill and two score of other mountain resorts will be found to be fully as interesting, and of them an extended description is given in the delineation published by the Boston & Maine Railroad, known as "The Book of the Mountains," and which is sent for a two-cent stamp to any address by the Gen'l Pass'r Dept. B. & M. R. R., Union Station, Boston, Mass.

Lexington Game Notes.

Wild game in this vicinity appears to be quite plentiful. A. J. Lane recently saw a large buck deer, a doe and two fawns near his residence. He got within twenty feet of one of the fawns.

Arthur Dexter saw a fair sized bear near J. C. Green's a few days ago. Lots of deer are seen nearly every day. Henry J. Lane reports deer and moose plentiful. J. C. Viles and others saw a fine deer in the road a few days ago near the Welsh falls, Sandy stream.

H. J. Lane recently caught twenty-four trout near the Viles & Perkins new dam, in thirty minutes.

LIVE YANKEE.

SOME RANGELEY PETS.

Munyon's New Pill Not to Be Put Upon the Market.

(Special correspondence to the PHONOGRAPH.)
RANGELEY, ME., Aug. 22, 1900.

Professor J. M. Munyon has purchased of H. A. Furbish, one of his blooded dogs and has given him the very appropriate name of Pill. The dog is known among the visitors and cottagers as Munyon's Pill. The professor says that he does not intend to put this one upon the market.

He has another and more uncommon pet. Down on his wharf is a frog which shows not only an aptitude for his natural, semiaquatic life, but is not averse to the taming influences of civilization. He will leave his sports at any time if he sees anyone on the shore holding out to him a good, fat worm, and will show his appreciation of the feast by waiting around for more.

Master Leon Timberlake has for his particular pet at Marquamosy, a chipmunk. There are three or four chipmunks around the cottage, but only one seems to care for any notice to be taken of him. The little striped fellow takes quite a liking to Leon and his sisters, especially if they have any peanuts or popcorn in their hands. He will run all over the children, picking the peanuts from them wherever they had hidden them, even picking the choice bits from their mouths. On one occasion the little animal took twenty-five of the nuts and carried them away.

Professor Munyon has without doubt landed upon his wharf by far the largest fish ever secured in the Rangeley region. The professor does not spend much of his time fishing, but when he makes an effort he does not return empty-handed. The day on which the landing was made was no great day for fish, not even for big fish, in the bustling little town. It was only a commonplace sort of a day.

But the fish! Spotted and lined as only combined nature and art can produce; an object of admiration to all who behold it, for who has not seen it. This fish occupies a position so high that it might readily be excused for being a little (or a big) vain. The fish is 48 inches long, a length attained by no other fish ever in this region; its girth is very large, but its weight, owing to its airy surroundings, has never been ascertained.

So pleased was the professor with his prize that he decided to have it mounted, and mounted it is, over the wharf at Munyon lodge on a pedestal 36 feet high. From this exalted position, looking first over the water, then toward the lodge, his watchful eye keeps guard over the inhabitants of each, and no wind, good or ill, ever blows over the lake without its presence being indicated by this guardian fish.

PLEASANT ISLAND CAMPS.

Good Fly Fishing Enjoyed by the Guests.

(Special Correspondence to the PHONOGRAPH.)
PLEASANT ISLAND, Aug. 22, 1900.

Mr. J. H. Shemer and Wm. Wenke, two New York gentlemen, with Archie Lufkin guide, brought home 12 pounds of trout, the largest weighing 3 1/2 pounds. All were caught on the fly.

Mr. Walter Raymond of Brooklyn is having great luck with his luminous flies, an invention of his own, bringing home fifteen nice trout, all caught after dark.

Mr. Horace Kimer has two 3 1/2-pounders, a 2 1/2-pounder and some small fish to his credit. The island is crowded and the old man is happy. The guests are enjoying themselves, passing the time by fishing, swimming and making excursions by water and by land. Especially favored by the guests for excursions are Quimby brook and Toothaker brook where beaver families can be seen at work.

Late arrivals are:

W. D. Stockby, Princeton; Wm. Purdy, New York; E. Emery and wife, J. H. Reynolds, wife and daughter, Paterson; W. Binney, Jr. and wife, Beatrice and Elizabeth Binney, Hoxnick; H. A broad piazza has been added on two sides of the cottage during their stay and other repairs made.

Pleasant Outing Completed.

A party of four consisting of Mr. E. P. Clark of New York, Mr. J. A. Tobey of Cambridge, Mr. H. W. Wellington of Boston and Mr. H. McFarland of Providence, have just completed an outing at Sweet's camp, Richardson pond.

They were in camp two weeks and saw by actual count more than a hundred deer. They found the trout fishing very good and always had plenty to eat with the exception of two days when the weather was very warm. The largest trout taken weighed 2 1/2 pounds. They report the fishing up the inlet near Beaver pond very good. They arranged to get their mail from Upper Dam every day.

Their work was divided as follows: Clark, cook; Tobey, woodsplitter; Wellington, chambermaid; McFarland, dishwasher. These gentlemen have camped together for several years past and thoroughly enjoy doing their own work.

The party made a trip to Observation mountain from which point they had an excellent view of twenty sheets of water.

Mr. Clark owns a private trout pond five miles from Rumford Falls where he has a camp and spends much of his summer. At this camp Mr. Clark gave a coon dinner to a party of his friends last fall, which was very much enjoyed.

LEDGE HOUSE AND CABINS.

Two Buck Deer Seen That Are Record Breakers.

(Special correspondence to the PHONOGRAPH.)
DEAD RIVER, ME., August 21, 1900.

Harlow Bros. have their two new camps at Black Brook pond completed. Mr. C. C. Brooks reports seeing lots of game on his week's stay at Black Brook. He saw two bucks which are record breakers and had fine sets of antlers. Someone will get a grand September prize. Mr. Brooks saw fourteen deer all together at one time. Mr. Brooks, Harvey and Herman Harlow saw a bear in the road not far from the Ledge house last week.

Chicago and Philadelphia ought to have some of our cool bracing air to go with their hot times. It would be somewhat of a change. Monday morning August 13, there was ice on Black Brook pond nearly one-fourth of an inch in thickness.

I am not so sure but what Mr. Brooks and both his guides, Harvey and Herman Harlow, will be taken up for fishing through the ice, which is prohibited by law. They had trout to eat every day, so they said, but the warm weather since has thawed the pond out so it is hard to tell whether they really did cut holes and fish or not.

A dance was held at the Ledge House and Cabins the night of August 15, a good crowd attended and all seemed to enjoy themselves very much. Forty-nine took supper. Music was furnished by W. S. Viles of Highland, H. R. Horton of Flagstaff and Mrs. Sadie Perkins of Dead River.

MINGO SPRING CAMPS.

Guests Make Excursion to Top of Bald Mountain.

(Special Correspondence to the PHONOGRAPH.)
RANGELEY, ME., Aug. 21, 1900.

The past week has been of special enjoyment to all guests at the camps. Card parties, popcorn parties and candy pulls were some of the features of the evening entertainments.

Capt. Moore and Mr. Playter have met with very good success fishing, having brought in several fine trout.

Capt. Moore and wife and Col. Leslie and wife returned home Monday. The Colonel regretted that he was obliged to leave as he was much pleased with the camps and would have liked very much to remain a month longer.

A party of four consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Hamblett and the Misses Arnold took a trip Tuesday to the top of Bald mountain. They were well repaid for their trouble and brought back a fine lot of blueberries which they found in abundance on the mountain.

Late arrivals are: Wm. Gasten and wife, New York; Geo. H. Hamblett, Boston; F. A. M. Burrell and wife, M. I. Edith Burrell, Master Harold Burrell II, Brooklyn.

Panther Attacks Woman.

The Lewiston Journal tells a thrilling experience of Mrs. Anna Perkins of Rome, who was at Chain of Ponds picking blueberries and was attacked by a panther. We would like to publish the opinions of guides in the Dead River region as to whether the animal was a panther or a bob cat.

Laflin & Rand Smokeless.

Generally speaking, there is in every lot of goods some that are a little better or a little worse, but seldom it is found that any product of manufacture runs evenly all the way through.

This must be the case with the powder used by Mr. Fanning, or his success would not be so continuous. There is an old saying that "The proof of the pudding is in the eating," and it must be proven as true in this case, for Mr. Fanning has been high gun at every Interstate tournament that he has shot L. & R. Smokeless since May 2, 1900, and which now attracts the attention of the sportsman and hunter throughout the United States and Canada.

The writer for one would like to know the personal history of a man that can always win, for it certainly must have a very interesting vein of matter that would interest every lover of dog and gun. From some hearsay information I have been told that he first gained his experience as a hunter, in the wilds of Alaska, and in cruising in Behring sea as a seal hunter.

Mrs. Pinkham

The one thing that qualifies a person to give advice on any subject is experience—experience creates knowledge.

No other person has so wide an experience with female ills nor such a record of success as Mrs. Pinkham has had.

Over a hundred thousand cases come before her each year. Some personally, others by mail. And this has been going on for 20 years, day after day and day after day.

Twenty years of constant success—think of the knowledge thus gained! Surely women are wise in seeking advice from a woman with such an experience, especially when it is free.

If you are ill get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once—then write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Thank those who rendered assistance and the musicians for their services at the funeral of the late Cal Penock which was held at the home of Mr. Haley August 10.

This is the season when the Rangeley laundress reaps a harvest of dollars. Last week one housekeeper earned $26, another $21, another $19.

Postmaster G. A. Procter was in Farmington over Sunday.

Mrs. Margaret Crehan, who has been spending her vacation in Rangeley returned to her home in Hingham, Mass., last Saturday.

Mrs. David Porter, who has been at her father's, Mr. Deck Quimby, the past summer, returned to Strong Monday.

Monday morning upon complaint of Lucien Oakes of Dallas, Deputy Sheriff George M. Esty arrested Elias Batchelder of Dallas for assault, to which Ed Collins was a witness. The three men had been at Rangeley village Sunday evening and were becoming somewhat noisy from the effects of too much of the ardent, when Sheriff Esty appeared and they decided that it was time to go home. On the way a little difficulty came up in which Oakes was badly used, as evinced by the condition of his head and face. Sheriff Esty accompanied the three to Phillips where Batchelder pleaded guilty before Justice Butterfield and was fined $5.00 and cost amounting to $20.00, which he paid and was put under bonds for $100.00 to keep the peace for one year.

The Tale of a Cake.

An east end car was loaded down with shoppers, mostly women, for it was in the middle of the afternoon. Conversation was proceeding at a great rate. It was like a pink tea or a session of the sewing circle. But all at once a hush fell over the fair chattering. A negro lad entered, bearing in his arms an immense cake three or four decks high and frosted over from pit to dome, as they say of a theater. There was a profusion of flowers by way of decoration, and delicate traceries of gauzy lace completed the embellishments. The cake was so large that the negro could scarcely carry it.

The cake told the whole story of the wedding, the bridesmaids, the orange flowers, the flower girls and the banquet afterward. Every feminine heart in that street car was a-flutter as its owner gazed speechlessly upon the evidence of a wedding to be.

Finally, when the car stopped to let on another passenger and everything was very still, one lady took courage to ask the negro where the wedding was going to be.

"Whut weddin?" asked the negro, his eyes protruding.

"The wedding that cake is for."

"Dis ain't no weddin cake."

"No?"

"No'm. Dis yere's er cake walk cake."

There was a smile that reached from one end of the car to the other, and very soon conversation was resumed as before.—Memphis Schmittar.

This is very low and will afford others beside Sunday school scholars an opportunity for a day's pleasure. Special preparations will be made at Farmington for Sunday school scholars and their parents. If stormy it will be postponed until Friday. Let teachers parents and scholars bring well filled baskets of food.

REUNION WELL ATTENDED.

Madrid Hall the Scene of a Pleasant Meeting.

Meeting to Be Held Every Year During Old Home Week.

(Special correspondence to the PHONOGRAPH.)
PHILLIPS, August 22, 1900.

The West Phillips and Madrid reunion met at Berry's hall, Madrid village, the afternoon of the 18th, according to the call—some of us had wondered why the call had been for afternoon instead of morning, but the pouring rain of the morning and the bright sunlight of the afternoon answered the question. No doubt more would have been there had the forenoon been pleasant, but there was a goodly number present, and the greetings between old friends long separated were many and hearty.

Among those who entered most heartily into the spirit of the occasion was Major Dill of California, a veteran who has seldom left his native hearth, under the shadow of Mount Saddleback, was equally hearty in welcoming old friends with their children and grandchildren. Lorenzo Whitney was too feeble to be at the hall but received friends at home.

It was a joyous occasion though many did not fail to drop a tear over the memory of those who have passed over, especially of those who have left us since the summer of 1890 at the Reed schoolhouse. In due time the meeting was called to order by Border and Judge Morrison was called to the chair. N. C. Brackett of West Virginia, George L. Smith of Augusta and Mrs. Mary Field of Boston were appointed a committee to nominate officers. In due time the committee reported the following nomination and all were unanimously elected: President, James Morrison; vice-president, G. L. Kempton; secretary and treasurer, Geo. L. Lakin; executive committee, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Field, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Dunham, Frank Chick, Elbridge Beedy and Mrs. G. L. Kempton. It was voted to call the organization the North Franklin Reunion association and that it meet annually on Thursday of Old Home Week.

There seems to be a strong conviction among a majority of those interested in the West Phillips and Madrid reunion, that for the present, no special effort be made to extend it over a very large territory. The meeting at the Reed schoolhouse in 1890, was a grand one and the meeting at Madrid last Thursday was in every way a success. An annual reunion during Old Home Week will be good for the people who live here, good for those who are far away, even though they cannot come. Some of them will, no doubt, in the future report themselves through the secretary or president, or the PHONOGRAPH thus strengthening the tie that binds them to home and friends. An annual picnic and social reunion at West Phillips or Madrid, in some beautiful grove, with a hall or church or schoolhouse near by to retreat to if rainy, will be pleasant to look forward to the whole year. The number will increase as the years pass by and as the older ones drop out, the ranks will be filled by the younger.

At an early hour in the evening the hall was well filled, and was called to order at 7.30 by the president, James Morrison. The matter of business relating to the association was discussed and disposed of. Speeches were made by Rev. N. C. Brackett, D. F. Hodges, Seward Dill, G. L. Kempton, G. L. Lakin, Geo. L. Smith, Joseph Plummer, Mrs. Mary Field, Mrs. Jennie Blanchard and others. An address by Jennie Blanchard was read by Jas. Morrison, also a poem was given by Mrs. G. L. Kempton both were very well received. A song, Old Lang Syne, as sang in Ye Olden Times was given by Ben Powers, which brought down the house. Good instrumental music was given by John McKenney, violin; and Mrs. Mary Moore at the organ. Time was given to the audience to sing old familiar pieces of sacred music, and Mrs. Jodrey presided at the organ, which all heartily enjoyed.

A competent judge informed us that two hundred were in the hall in the evening and everybody was happy as many expressed.

The president announced that the North Franklin Reunion association would meet again in one year from that night, on Thursday, it being Old Home Week. After singing, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," the association was adjourned by the president.

Following is the poem written for the occasion by C. B. Kempton:

Ten long years have passed away,
Since our last reunion day;
The many changes time has made,
Will never from our memories fade.

We meet with smiles and part in tears,
As we greet the friends of early years;
We think, and the thought gives bitter pain,
We never all shall meet again.

We're glad to meet you all once more,
As we journey on to the better shore;
All, did I say? Not all are here,
That gathered with us that other year.

Some forms are slumbering 'neath the sod,
Their spirits gone to be with God.
We don't see Father Brackett here,
And Olive Leavitt does not appear.

There is Charles and Augusta, and Francis,
Benjamin, Daniel and Isaac are lost to view,
And Mary Hewey, and Stephen K.,
And many more have passed away,

Whose names I do not now recall;
We speak of them and that is all.
Their hands we cannot clasp again,
They are done with all earth's loss and gain.

But there's a mansion built above;
We hope to gain that home of love,
And one day we may meet them there
Beyond the vale of sin and care.

There's Nathan and Custis and Jennie B.,
And many more dear friends we see,
And some of you are growing old,
But you all of you look good as gold.

And if the silver threads are seen,
Where locks of gold and jet have been;
Time sits with grace on many a brow,
That is but slightly furrowed, now.

While we meet for an hour or two,
And years of absence we renew,
O, let our hearts in thankfulness
Go up to God, who deigns to bless.

We meet in peace and quiet here,
Without a thought of danger near,
No sound of war or carnage high,
While freedom's flag is waving high.

While other lands feel sore distress,
And want and pestilence oppress,
We are at peace, and plenty reigns,
And those in want oft share our gains.

So we should praise our God above,
Who is watching over us in love,
And give to all a helping hand,
Who are starving in a foreign land.

And may the goods that we bestow,
And all the kindness that we show,
Prove while our laws are wise and good,
We do to others as we should.

We've come with all our baskets piled,
Enough for man, woman and child,
While to the wind each care we cast,
And wish the hours flew not so fast.

Long may the memory of this day
Shed brightness on our future way;
And if no more on earth we meet,
May each in heaven find a seat.

Wanted

All sufferers with that terrible disease, asthma, to send address to G. F. ALEXANDER, P. O. Box 100, Portland, Me., and learn something for which they will be grateful the rest of their lives.

Don't be a Cipher!

The cipher takes old fashioned medicines, because his great-grandmother did, as prescribers to pay $2.00 for a physician's prescription rather than 25 cents for a remedy of advanced science that will cure him.—MUNYON.

The world is filled with men who are nothing but ciphers. They are nonentities; they give nothing and nothing can be taken from them. In themselves they are nothing. The Cipher will suffer for years with the pains of rheumatism, rather than invest 25 cents in Munyon's Rheumatism Cure which relieves all rheumatic pains in a few hours and generally cures before one vial has been used. If the Cipher has kidney trouble, he will spend hundreds of dollars seeking the fabulous waters of some distant country, pay high hotel bills, and come back in a wooden box, rather than go to the nearest drug store and secure a 25 cent bottle of Munyon's Kidney Cure which will absolutely cure him. If the Cipher has dyspepsia he will endure all its pangs, rather than be convinced that Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure will cure him. If the Cipher has a cold, even a slight one, he hurries to the family physician, pays two dollars for a prescription, stays in the house for a week and thinks he has had a narrow escape from death. For a few pennies he could secure Munyon's Cold Cure which would quickly cure his cold in a few hours, but you could not make him believe that—he won't.

Each of the Munyon's Remedies is a positive Cure for one particular disease—they are not "cure alls." Any drug store sells them; mostly at 25 cents. If your case puzzles you and you feel that you would like to have the advice of a skillful physician, write to Munyon's Doctors, and have the benefit of their wide experience. They will advise you by mail without cost.

Skin Diseases

When the excretory organs fail to carry off the waste material from the system, there is an abnormal accumulation of effete matter which poisons and clogs the blood, and it becomes sour and acid. This poison is carried through the general circulation to all parts of the body, and upon reaching the skin surface there is a redness and eruption, and by certain peculiarities we recognize Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Erysipelas and many other skin troubles, more or less severe. While the skin is the seat of irritation, the real disease is in the blood. Medicated lotions and powders may allay the itching and burning, but never cure, no matter how long and faithfully continued, and the condition is often aggravated and skin permanently injured by their use.

The disease is more than skin deep; the entire circulation is poisoned.

The many preparations of arsenic, mercury, potash, etc., not only do not cure skin diseases, but soon ruin the digestion and break down the constitution.

S. S. S., nature's own remedy, made of roots, herbs and barks, of great purifying and tonic properties, quickly and effectually cures blood and skin troubles, because it goes direct to the root of the disease and stimulates and restores normal, healthy action to the different organs, cleanses and enriches the blood, and thus relieves the system of all poisonous secretions. S. S. S. cures permanently because it leaves none of the original poison to reappear in the blood and cause a fresh attack.

Healthy blood is necessary to preserve that clear, smooth skin and beautiful complexion so much desired by all. S. S. S. can be relied upon with certainty to keep the blood in perfect order. It has been curing blood and skin diseases for half a century; no other medicine can show such a record.

S. S. S. contains no poisonous minerals—it is purely vegetable and harmless.

Our medical department is in charge of physicians of large experience in treating blood and skin diseases, who will take pleasure in aiding by their advice and direction all who desire it. Write fully and freely about your case; your letters are held in strictest confidence. We make no charge whatever for this service. Our book on Blood and Skin Diseases will be sent free upon application.

Senator Frye at Rangeley.

Saturday was Rangeley's gala day, for on that day the political campaign in Franklin county was opened with a speech by Senator Frye. Excursions were run from Farmington and several hundred people took the opportunity to visit the town.

The rally was in charge of the Republican town committee, consisting of Messrs. John R. Toothaker, H. A. Furbish and Phineas Richardson. They had erected in Marble's grove a stand for the speaker and other dignitaries, draping it with the national colors and planting flags over it at various places. Phillips Cornet band was present and furnished music.

On the platform were seated Senator Frye, Senator Beveridge of Indiana, Mr. F. S. Dickson of Philadelphia, A. B. Gilman of Haverhill, Hon. F. E. Timberlake of Phillips, F. W. Butler, Esq., of Farmington, Rev. Dr. F. A. Noble of Chicago, Rev. Sidney Wakely of Rangeley, Maj. Seward Dill of Soquel, Cal., S. D. Davis of Phillips and Amos King of Avon. Mr. Dickson introduced the senator and said many pleasant things about him, all of which were thoroughly endorsed by the hearers.

Senator Frye said that the introduction put him in about the same position that one of his clients was. He had defended the man and extolled him before the jury. When he sat down the client reached over and said, "Say, I didn't know I was such a darn good feller." The senator is always interesting to the people of Rangeley and when he launched into the questions of the day, the audience was with him. President McKinley was extolled as the best man to lead the nation in the present troublous times. He wanted a dollar that was worth not less than one-hundred cents, and was going to vote for it.

The text of the McKinley, Wilson and Dingley bills was discussed and the effect of each told. He showed that the Republican bills had brought prosperity and that the Wilson bill had brought the opposite.

Our commerce received a share of attention. The way in which it was brought to its present condition was described. The leading houses of the country sent representatives to the other nations and by their efforts succeeded in building it up. Something must be done to keep it. New countries are being opened to us; our new possessions are affording magnificent markets for our productions. He believed in our imperial policy, but declared we wanted no Chinese territory.

At the close of the speech Senator Beveridge was called for, but Mr. Dickson said he would be heard from later.

Strong.

It would seem that the matter of waterworks is not settled yet. As was promised by the opposition, a petition was circulated and another meeting called for Friday. There seems to be a determination on the part of the farmers and a few others to defeat the enterprise. Those in favor of the water feel sure that another meeting will only increase the majority which was secured at the last meeting. There is no doubt but the meeting of Friday will be well attended as each side wants full strength. Mr. Day pond where they want to get the water is 839 feet above the village, thus giving an abundant head that would serve at any time. The pond is fed by springs, making it water of the best quality. The main would come into the village near the corn shop and go up onto the hill just back of the village where a reservoir will be made. From here it is proposed to run the eight-inch main through the village and up to the mill of C. V. Starbird. The great head from the mountain will do away with having a large pipe from the pond and a four-inch pipe will be used, thus materially lowering the expense.

Mr. Fred Porter is home from Idaho and is visiting his mother.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

Proper Ways of Hanging Pictures.
An Original Design—How to Cook Veal.

Today no one hangs pictures in pairs. The time when regularity of arrangement was considered the acme of elegance has vanished, and in its place has come a wild struggle after the unexpected by those whose one idea of artistic effect is to have nothing match anything else. The weird result their efforts produce is due to their failure to appreciate the fact that harmony at least must rule, even although uniformity has been discarded.

There must be a scheme to which the general tone of the pictures should conform. A dark carbon must not hang close to an etching drawn in delicate lines and bordered by a broad white mat. If water colors with their soft tints elbow oil paintings with their bolder tones, the former will be faded, the latter coarsened.

Let it be grasped, in the first place, that certain things may go together, while others must be barred from the association. Etchings, photographs, drawings, some engravings, water colors and pastels may be assembled on friendly terms. Even then, however, there must be judgment exercised in the way they are placed. Contrary to the natural inclination dark, heavily shaded pictures should not always hang in the strongest light, but should in some cases seek a sheltered position, away from the glare of the windows. Near the light may hang the pictures in fainter tints, the subdued water colors and the line engravings, whose best points need illumination. This order may sometimes be reversed when the corner farthest from the window shows a decided need of brightening by light pictures, but always the graduation of tints should be borne in mind. Just as in a well planned room the darkest color is found in the carpet and melts from that through the shades of the curtains and furniture to the lightest nuance in the wall, so the lower pictures should be more somber in hue than the upper and should lead the eye unconsciously from the deepest tone to the highest light.

These are days when every one is looking for the one unconventional piece of furniture. An army of busness firms has sprung up to meet the demand, and, while designs for these special articles are greatly improved and many of them are simply copies of rare old models, yet the main result is unsatisfactory and so many times duplicated that one is sure never to have a unique bit for long. The only way to be certain that your furniture is not exactly repeated in a hundred homes is to invent a design or copy some artistic and forgotten design and have it made up by a good cabinet worker. It costs more, but it lasts forever as a thing of beauty and joy, and you are happy in possessing the only one of its kind. The washstand illustrated here is of excellent form and made in mahogany would be handed down to future generations as an heirloom.

How to Cook Veal.

To make a delicious veal pie cut two pounds of the fillet of veal into small pieces. After seasoning them with salt, pepper and a little powdered mace put them into a pie dish. Now add a few slices of ham or bacon that have first been parboiled, pour in some veal gravy, add a spoonful of minced herbs and some slices of hard boiled eggs, cover with a soft crust and bake for about one and one-half hours. When cooked, lift a portion of the crust and pour in about a teacupful of strong veal stock, cover again and serve.

Another method of cooking veal is that of stuffing a breast of veal. Cut open the underpart of the breast and take out the meat from the bones, leaving a large vacant space, which should be filled with the stuffing. This stuffing itself may be made economically from bread crumbs, chopped herbs, grated lemon rind and suitable seasoning or it may be made on extravagant lines by boiling some bread crumbs in milk; then adding when the crumbs are cold and the superfluous moisture has been squeezed off the yolk of an egg, a liberal amount of salt and pepper, spinach, artichoke, herbs, onions, mushrooms and a little bacon, all chopped together and thoroughly mixed. When the meat is stuffed, skewer it and tie it round with a string. Fill the pan in which you wish to bake it with a little bacon and a few slices of onion, lay in the meat and set it in the oven to bake.

Daudet's Ideas of Death.

Alphonse Daudet constantly suffered severe physical pain and was unable to sleep without the aid of chloral. He was always speaking about death and especially rejoiced in the theory propounded by an English doctor that death was in itself a delightful sensation, voluptuous, resembling the action of anesthetics.

Daudet on one occasion dreamed of dying surrounded by his friends and conversing of the hereafter. He once told Goncourt, who relates the incident, that whenever he entered a new apartment for the first time his eye instinctively searched for the spot where his coffin would be placed.—Lippincott's Magazine.

THE BEST THEY KNOW.

YOU remember the old lady who rode for the first time on a railway train. There was a frightful collision, but when the rescuers reached her she was quite calm. She said she supposed they always stopped that way. The story well illustrates why so many women are satisfied to live without Ivory Soap. They have never tried it! Naturally enough, they think that annoying odors, sharp chemicals, and wasteful greasiness are common to all soaps.

GINGERBREAD.

One cup of molasses, three tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in three tablespoonfuls of boiling water, ginger and flour to knead well but not hard.

SWEET PICKLED BEETS.

Select young beets and boil them in a porcelain kettle until they can be pierced with a silver fork. When cold cut lengthwise into appropriate size and pour over a syrup made of nearly equal parts of sugar and vinegar boiled together, with a half tablespoonful of ground cloves tied in a cloth, to each gallon. Pour over syrup when it is hot.

TOMATO MUSTARD.

Slice and boil for an hour half a bushel of ripe tomatoes with six red peppers; strain and boil for another hour with two tablespoonfuls of black pepper, two ounces of ginger, one ounce of allspice, half an ounce of cloves, one-eighth ounce mace and salt to season. When cold add two ounces curry powder and one pint vinegar.

GREEN TOMATO PRESERVES.

Cut green tomatoes crosswise, scald and to one quart of tomatoes add one sliced lemon. Cook in molasses until tender.

QUICK PUDDING.

Two eggs, one pint of milk, two-thirds of a cupful of sugar, a little salt and spice and a few pieces of bread broken fine. Raisins are an improvement. Bake about twenty minutes. F. H. T.

GRAPE JELLY.

Wild grapes when they are hardly ripe are by far the best for jelly and should be used if it is possible to obtain them. Pick the grapes from the stems carefully, wash gently, mash and heat them slowly until the juice is all extracted; put in a bag and let drip; take this juice and boil fifteen minutes, skim, add a little more than equal quantity of sugar if wild grapes are used, boil until it jellies and put in tumblers.

BLACKBERRY JELLY.

If possible get the wild berries as they are of much better flavor. Mash the berries and beat them slowly until all the juice is drawn out and strain twice. Allow a scant cupful of sugar to each cupful of juice, heating the sugar in the oven. Boil the juice for fifteen minutes, then add the hot sugar and boil until it thickens. In pouring into glasses set them in hot water and fill to the brim. Set away in a dry place when properly covered with prepared paper.

APPLE JELLY.

In making apple jelly use only tart apples, and it is well to let the quartered fruit stand in cold water over night before stewing. I have also found that the juice and grated rind of a lemon added to a dozen apples is a great improvement. In other respects the rules given above for other jellies should govern your action.

Among the Churches.

At the Union church Rev. Mr. Earnshaw preached from words in Romans xii, 12, "Rejoicing in hope." Hope, in the spiritual atmosphere is like oxygen in the physical atmosphere. As the body feels new strength and vitality when the air that is breathed contains much of this energizing element, so the soul that is sustained and nourished by hope has courage and power unknown to that one who is not so upheld.

We find among mankind a large class of people who look with hopefulness upon the condition of affairs in the world, who see everywhere signs of progress and occasions for thanksgiving. There are also many who take the opposite view, to whom each disaster is a prophecy of universal sorrow. They are ready to give the least desirable interpretation to each action, and to see signs of impending calamities in very trivial occurrences. Seeing then that pessimism has its despondent following, we ask what attitude of mind, what investigations will develop more optimistic vision? What are some of the aids to hopefulness?

Among those mentioned was the habit of taking a broad view of life and the world in regard to both time and space. Do not base conclusions upon the history of one year or one people. Trace the path of mankind since its history was first written and note the wonderful advance in civilization, in attainments, in character. How much that was base and brutal in that which even a hundred years ago would pass unchallenged is now impossible. Though some knowledge once held in the minds of men has vanished, is not the whole trend onward? Are not more results of scientific and mechanical skill in practical use today than ever before? Is not the aggregate of desirable knowledge and civilization greater than that of any other time? Taking this broad view we do not see "That God, which ever lives and loves, One God, one law, one element, And one far-off divine event, To which the whole creation moves."

So shall we be given hope, not in the narrow sphere of our own lives alone, but in that wider sphere which includes the whole brotherhood of man. Spiritual insight or discernment is an aid to hopefulness. The more one comprehends of God and his relations to us the stronger will be our hope and belief that progress is sure. As a supreme aid one must needs have faith. Faith in a God who works in the hearts of men; in a divine power which will eventually prove itself greater than all other forces, bringing its purposes to pass. He who has this hope, rejoices in this hope, and will assuredly help in bringing the gladness for which he looks, for "Every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself."

Letter to Benj. Butler.

Phillips, Me.

Dear Sir: The annoyance caused by short measure in paints, that are sold by the "gallon," is worse than the loss by shortage. Misled by the maker's representations as to how far a gallon will go, you buy too little of every sort, and must send for more in the midst of the work.

Besides, a short measure man is, doubtless, also a cheat in other ways: his paint is likely to cover perhaps two-thirds as much as he says. This also you find out while the work is going on, and the painting must wait while you send for more.

Even this is not all, nor the worst. If it wears half as long as he says, you are lucky. You have the whole job to do over again in a year or two; and perhaps your paint is not really good for that short time.

One law of lying is that liars lie most where it's hardest to catch 'em. Another is that a liar lies wherever he can.

Look out for short measure. It includes all the rest. Devote lead and zinc is full measure and pure and durable.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & Co.

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we have ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering. —Yours truly, Mrs. Geo. F. Burdick, Liberty, R. I. For sale by W. A. D. Cragin, Phillips; E. H. Whitney, Rangeley; Dyer's Drug Store, Strong; Lester L. Mitchell, Kingfield.

ALLEN CAMPMEETING

Held at Strong August 13-19 Largely Attended

[Special Correspondence to the PHONOGRAPH.]

PHILLIPS, ME., August 22, 1900.

Campmeeting at Strong was opened Tuesday, August 13. Dr. A. S. Ladd, presiding elder of Lewiston district had charge of the meeting. His geniality and immutable manner kept all cheerful and hopeful. Weather was unfavorable the first part of the week, but preaching and social services were fully sustained Tuesday.

Wednesday morning the social service was conducted by Rev. G. W. Barber. At 10 o'clock a. m. Dr. E. S. J. McAllister pastor of Pine St. church Portland preached on the "Christian's Equipment," from Ephes. vi, 10-17.

At 2 p. m. Rev. W. E. Purrington, pastor at Rumford, preached from Matt. vi chapter. This sermon was not sensational, but it would have caused a lively sensation in an ordinary congregation.

At 8 p. m. a social service was conducted in Phillips cottage by Rev. A. A. Callaghan, pastor at Kingfield. In the evening Rev. J. L. Hoyle of Rumford Falls preached on the "Christian Fight," I Tim. vi, 12.

Thursday morning the rain was still falling. Rev. G. W. Barber led the devotional service. At 10 a. m. Rev. A. A. Callaghan preached from Rom. i, 16. Rev. W. F. Berry, field secretary of the Christian League and Rev. G. D. Holmes, pastor of Brunswick arrived on the noon train.

Rev. J. E. Clancy, pastor at Phillips, preached in the afternoon on "The Authority and Power of Christ," Matt. xxviii, 18. Rev. G. D. Holmes had charge of the social service. In the evening Rev. W. F. Berry preached on "Character," from James iv, 7. This sermon was specially applicable to young people.

Friday morning the clouds had disappeared and the sun was shining brightly. The change in the weather brought more people to the camp ground. At 10 a. m. Rev. G. D. Holmes of Brunswick preached on "The Home of the Soul." In this sermon there was meat and inspiration. In the afternoon Rev. W. F. Berry presented the work of the Christian Civic League. The speaker believed in the enforcement of the law. In one place he seized $800 worth of liquor. The state is being stirred up. Rumsellers are trembling and in much fear. In the evening Rev. G. W. Barber preached an excellent sermon, "The Highway of Life."

Saturday morning Rev. J. E. Clancy preached on "Divine Forgiveness," Matt. ix, 2. Rev. W. P. Lord of Farmington conducted the social service at 1 p. m. The afternoon service was under the direction of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Helen Beedy presided. Rev. M. Ranger offered prayer and scripture was read by Rev. J. E. Clancy. Mrs. Beedy gave an interesting account of her trip abroad. She left New York June 6, for Edinburgh to attend the World's W. C. T. U. convention. There were 1100 passengers on the boat, almost 300 in excess of the population of Phillips. The White Ribbons interdicted rum pudding, brandy sauce and wine drinking on the steamer. By order of the captain it was dropped from the menu. The American contingent of the W. C. T. U. received a hearty welcome. Mrs. Beedy was entertained by the same hostess that opened her home to Neal Dow. She also occupied the same room. Her account of the drunkenness that she saw was appalling. This evidently applied to the slum districts of Glasgow. The speaker expressed a strong preference for Maine. "Her state had outlawed the rum traffic. The rumrunner is a criminal." Saturday evening Rev. W. P. Lord preached.

Sunday was an ideal day for the campmeeting. Early the people commenced to come. The love feast at 9 a. m. was largely attended.

Dr. Daniels gave an interesting account of his work in India, also the famine districts. In the afternoon there was present about 1500 people. Larger attendance than for many years. Dr. F. C. Hardcock preached an able sermon from Ps. xxi, 3. The association made no mistake in engaging such a preacher. The closing service of the campmeeting was a social prayer meeting. All the preachers and many of the people participated in this service. The preaching throughout the campmeeting was of an high order. Better order will not be found on any campground this year than was manifested at Strong. The management of the boarding-house was in the hands of the Ladies Aid society of Strong.

Mrs. Prescott of Farmington had charge of the music. The last campmeeting at Strong in the 19th century was spiritual and helpful. Let the first campmeeting in the 20th century be characterized by greater earnestness and spirituality.

Kingfield.

Mrs. F. D. Gilman and two children have gone to Strong for a two week's vacation.

Mr. E. A. Goodwin went to Strong Sunday and brought up his family who have been there for a week.

Miss Cora Staples of Lewiston is passing a few days with her friend, Miss Lella Hunnewell.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Caswell of Lowell are spending a short time in town visiting relatives.

Work on the new spool and bobbin mill is going along at good speed and is characteristic of Kingfield. The prediction is that in ninety days after they began the mill will be ready to run. Winter and Wing have been taking their timber from Mount Abram for use in the building.

The two elk and two buffalo which have been in the park at Carrabassett have been sold and went through here Monday. They did not serve for profit where they were and Mr. Smith decided to sell them. They were sold to A. F. Gerald of Fairfield. They were taken away by Mr. C. H. Stuart, superintendent of Merrymeeting park, who came up for the purpose. Col. Morrill of Pittsfield leased them to go to Pittsfield for four days to be one of the attractions at the races.

IT HAS STOOD THE TEST OF TIME!

Three good reasons why it sells better than any other Plug for Smoking, and why you should use it.

1st. IT IS THE BEST MADE.
2d. IT IS MADE BY UNION LABOR.
3d. IT IS NOT MADE BY A TRUST.

Tennyson and Longfellow could take a worthless sheet of paper and write a poem on it and make it worth $65,000. That's genius.
Rockefeller can write a few words on a sheet of paper and it is worth $5,000,000. That's capital.
The United States can take an ounce and a quarter of gold, stamp on it an "eagle bird" and make it worth $200. That's money.
A mechanic can take material worth $500, make it into watch springs worth $1,000. That's skill.
A ditch digger works ten hours a day, handles several tons of earth, for $1.25. That's labor.
When the people curse the trusts and still continue to buy and use their products instead of using "Peace and Good Will," "Burr Oak," "Autumn," "Old Kentucky" and "Our Flag," goods made by the HARRY WEISSINGER TOBACCO COMPANY, an independent factory, that's sheer folly and inconsistency, and when a salesman or merchant tells you he will sell you as good tobacco for less money, that's UNMIGATED, STUPIDOUS GALL. You can't buy silk and calico at the same price.
